THE COMMITTEE ON Church Cooperation

Annual Report 2022

Friend of the CCC,

As a CCC supporter, you know that the Committee on Church Cooperation is more than a place – We're a cause. From fighting food insecurity to fostering collaboration, from medical assistance to missionary support, from clothing closet to toys and turkeys for Christmas; the CCC doesn't just serve the needy – The CCC strengthens our community.

Much like the last two years, 2022 came with unique challenges and many little victories along the way. We had to replace not one, but two HVAC units; but were also able to make several building updates, provide formula during a formula crisis, and ensured that more than 350 families with school-aged children had food during the summer months when access to food was slim. While we continue to serve a record number of clients, now exceeding 9000, we are reminded daily how blessed we are to be here to witness and improve the lives of our neighbors.

If you were to listen in on one of our case manager's client conversations this year, you would hear stories of heartache and loss, but also of hope and perseverance. Monique, our Story of Hope (featured on the back) is a prime example of this. We are lifting shadows every day at the CCC, but cannot meet the increasing need without your support.

Would you consider making a year-end gift to the CCC this Christmas season? Every donation matters and makes a huge impact on the lives of our CCC clients. You can visit www.committeeonchurch.org to make a donation towards the ministry that means the most to you, or you can enclose your gift and donation slip in the provided addressed envelope.

Thank you so much for your support, prayers, and time. Our community is such a blessing to us.

-Ashley Boyd, Executive Director

A Story of Hope...

Monique lost her job cleaning a hotel in March of 2020 when hotels closed because of Covid. She struggled to find employment that was adequate to pay her bills, which led to her losing housing. Over the summer, she and her children bounced between friends' apartments. She finally secured a job where she was able to start saving money and was able to get another apartment for herself and her children. Thanks to support of generous donors like you, the CCC was able to help her fill the apartment with food, furniture, and household items to make their new place a home. Now that Monique is stable, she can focus on moving forward and building a stronger future for her family.
